STEPHANIE GOMEZ EARNS THE 2024 PRESIDENT'S MEDAL OF DISTINCTION

Stephanie's leadership, academic excellence, dedication, commitment to peers, and her journey of overcoming obstacles to pursue education has earned her the honor of being selected as this year's recipient of the President's Medal of Distinction. Stephanie is graduating with a multiple degrees in Sociology, Social Science, and Liberal Arts. These degrees are not only a testament to her academic achievements, but to her passion to help others overcome obstacles that she faced at a very young age. Stephanie came from a broken home and was victim of human trafficking, childhood sexual abuse, domestic violence, and adult homelessness. However, Stephanie is no longer a victim of her past.

DEAN'S MEDAL OF DISTINCTION HONOREES

Sergeant Shane Armstrong - Student Services, Counseling, Admissions & Records, Financial Aid

Shane Armstrong is a United States Army Veteran and is graduating with an Associate for Transfer in Sociology, an Associate of Arts in Social Science, and a CSUGE Certificate. Shane will graduate with a 3.93 GPA and transfer to CSU Fresno in the Fall. She has a passion for advocating and helping other Veterans.

David Baize - Physical and Computational Sciences and Distance Education

Returning to school in 2021 was no small feat for David Baize. Dropping out of high school before the age of 17 due to having Autism and missing large portions of school for numerous surgeries, he went on to have a career in construction for 30 years before going back to school to pursue his educational goals.

Ariel Davis - Humanities and Athletics

Ariel is earning degrees in Communication and Social Science and has had a tremendous impact on this college, joining clubs, student government, and more. In her first semester, however, as an LGBTQ student with undiagnosed dyslexia and difficulties with her mental health, she struggled in the mostly online environment. Under her own power, she found college resources in DSP&S, Psychological Services, EOPS, and TRIO.

Sabrina Gonzales - Social Sciences

Sabrina is a student who exemplifies determination, passion, and perseverance. Sabrina is graduating from Clovis Community College with two degrees, Business Administration and Social Sciences. She is a single mother on cash aid, and she had another child recently as well. Sabrina's children are ages 9, 3 and 4 months.

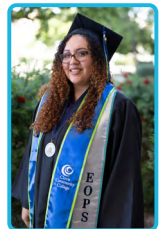

Amanda Vadeboncoeur - Natural & Health Sciences

Through her faith Amanda took on the challenge of being a full-time student, a full-time employee of Community Medical Centers, and a full-time single mom. Between work and school few hours were left to spend quality time with her daughter and that time was and is precious.

Ziyue "Sue" Xue - Student Success, Equity, Tutorial Center, and Outreach

After moving from China to the United States in 2015, Sue experienced challenging differences between the educational systems of the two countries. Despite moments of frustration and uncertainty, she has become proficient in English and adapted to cultural differences. She now uses her bilingual capabilities to help others, often assisting students and parents with translation needs at Clovis Community College.

STEM (SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, MATHEMATICS) STUDENTS SHINE AT THE 3RD ANNUAL RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM ON MAY 10

STEM students were excited to display their research projects at the 3rd Annual STEM Research Symposium. Our amazing faculty teach through research to empower students to investigate the world around them, put classroom theory into real-world practice, and diversify the scientific workforce. Dr. Contreras Nieves, Stanford School of Medicine Postdoctoral Medical Fellow in Nephrology, served as the guest speaker. This is a premier research opportunity for CCC students as this level of research is normally offered at the junior and senior levels or at the graduate levels at the universities.
