The District does not permit students to audit courses per Board Policy 4070.

Illness

Fall 2024 • (Page 21 of 2024-2025 catalog)

Revision: Updated language.

Students who are absent from class should follow the instructor’s absence policy as stated in the class syllabus available on Canvas.

Students who have a communicable disease which will cause an absence may notify the Student Health Services Office at (559) 325-5318. The Student Health Services Office may exclude any student from campus who is infected with a contagious or infectious disease (Education Code §49451). The student will be permitted to return when school authorities are satisfied that any contagious disease does not exist.

Grading System – MW, Military Withdrawal

Revision: Added language to include refund procedures.

The military withdrawal symbol is authorized at any time a student who is a member of an active or reserve United States military service receives orders compelling a withdrawal from courses. The MW symbol is assigned by the registrar upon verification of such orders. Military withdrawals shall not be counted in progress probation and dismissal procedures.

The corresponding college’s Business Services Office will process a full or partial refund. If a student drops all courses with an MW, the full cost per unit and fees that are applicable will be reversed, and if there is a credit, the refund will be sent to the payer. If a student drops some, but not all, courses with an MW, the cost per unit will be reversed for the dropped courses, but the fees and remaining full cost per unit will stand as charged in the student’s account. Materials fees, lab costs, and any other associated institutional fees will be reviewed by the Business Services Office.

Before withdrawing with an MW, students should speak with an academic counselor to help determine if an Incomplete would be a better option.

General Education for the AA/AS Degree

Fall 2024 • (Pages 47-51 of 2024-2025 catalog)

Revision: Reverting to prior Title 5 language for Local General Education for the AA/AS Degree to align with other State Center Community College District colleges. Implementation of new GE pattern in Fall 2025.

The general education curriculum offered by Clovis Community College complements a focused study in a single discipline or major. It provides a broad educational experience about aspects of humanity and the world which a major area of study may not include.

This broad education encourages critical, creative, and engaged thinking in addition to augmenting skills acquisition. Students explore the diversity of culture to open doors of opportunity. By developing a broad humanist understanding of the world through knowledge, practice, interpretation, and analysis in the arts, humanities, sciences, mathematics, and social sciences, a student is better prepared to participate responsibly in civic and professional life and to continue the process of lifelong learning.

Following are the major areas of general education per Title 5 § 55063:

Natural Sciences

Courses in the natural sciences are those which examine the physical universe, its life forms, and its natural phenomena. To satisfy the general education requirement in natural sciences, a course should help the student develop an appreciation and understanding of the scientific method through direct experience and encourage an understanding of the relationships between science and other human activities. This category would include introductory or integrative courses in astronomy, biology, chemistry, general physical science, geology, meteorology, oceanography, physics, and other scientific disciplines.

Social and Behavioral Sciences

Courses in the social and behavioral sciences are those which focus on people as members of society. To satisfy the general education requirement in social and behavioral sciences, a course should help the student develop an awareness of the method of inquiry used by the social and behavioral sciences. It should stimulate critical thinking about the ways people act and have acted in response to their societies and how their actions in turn change their society. It should also promote appreciation of how societies and social subgroups operate. This category would include introductory or integrative survey courses in anthropology, economics, history, political science, psychology, sociology, and related disciplines.

Humanities

Courses in the humanities examine the philosophical, literary, aesthetic, and cultural expressions of humans. These courses develop an awareness of the ways in which people throughout the ages and in different cultures have responded to themselves and the world around them through artistic and cultural creation. They develop aesthetic understanding and, through study of traditional and changing cultural perspectives, foster better informed value judgments. These courses also offer students the opportunity to explore their creativity and imagination and to move consciously towards an awareness of their capability for artistic self-expression. This category will include art history, literature and film, philosophy and morality, comparative religion, the fine and performing arts, and language. When we ask who we are, and what our lives ought to mean, we are using the humanities.

Language and Rationality

Courses in language and rationality are those which develop for the student principles and applications of language that lead to logical thought, clear and precise expression, and critical evaluation of communication in any endeavor.

1. English Composition: Courses fulfilling this requirement include both expository and argumentative writing.
2. Communication and Analytical Thinking: Courses fulfilling these requirements include oral communication, mathematics, logic, statistics, computer language and programming, and related disciplines.

General Education for the Associate Degree

The Clovis Community College general education pattern should only be followed by students pursuing the Clovis Community College Associate in Arts or Associate in Science degree and do not intend to transfer. Students may opt to satisfy the local AA/AS general education requirements by completing the CSU GE Breadth or IGETC pattern in lieu of the local general education pattern. The local general education requirements are outlined in Numbers 4-9 under “Requirements for AA and AS Degrees.”

A minimum of 18 units in general education is required for graduation from Clovis Community College.
